HEAVY DAMAGES ARE CLAIMED

Irmgard's First Officer
Lorenzen Sues
I. I. S. N. Co.

FOR PHYSICAL INJURIES AND MENTAL DISTRESS

His Right Leg Broken and Permanently Injured By Fall of Slingload of Sugar From Steamer Noeau.

An action for $10,240 damages for injuries and loss of wages has been brought in the admiralty division of the United States District Court by Hans Lorenzen against the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company. J. J. Dunne and R. W. Breckons are proctors for the libellant.

The libel designates Hans Lorenzen as a mariner and late chief officer on board the American barkentine Irmgard. He shows that he is 26 years of age and an unmarried man, and that he assisted his father in the support and maintenance of his mother and his five minor brothers and sisters living in San Francisco, who are partly dependent for their support and maintenance upon his earnings.

At the time of receiving the injuries of which he complains, he was the holder of an unlimited chief officer's license for sail, and an unlimited second officer's license for steam, and from the signing of the articles on November 29, 1901, until the time of his injuries he was chief officer of the Irmgard, in perfect health, strong and hearty, and enjoyed the full and free use of his limbs.

YOWELL BEFORE COURT

ALLOWED TO GO ON OWN RECOGNIZANCE

Motion Made By Ashford, Appearing For Prosecution—Statement of Attorney—Case Wednesday.

Daniel Yowell appeared in the Police Court this forenoon on the charge of manslaughter in the first degree, he having been arrested yesterday afternoon. Yowell was very pale and looked as if he had already suffered a great deal mentally over his part in the death of his friend and school chum, David Kanewani.

Attorney Ashford appeared for the prosecution. The charge was read to the defendant who asked that he be granted a continuance until next Wednesday in order to prepare himself. He had retained Attorney De Bolt but the latter could not be present on account of very important business in the upper courts. On this showing, the case was continued until the time mentioned.

Attorney Ashford stated to the court that it was not the intention of the people bringing the charge against the young man to cause him any inconvenience whatever nor yet to make his prosecution a persecution. He had no idea as to the circumstances of the young man and could not tell what bail or bond he could furnish. However, he hoped the court would be lenient and that whatever was required of the defendant would be as light as possible.

The court might allow the defendant to go until next Wednesday morning on his own recognizance.

Judge Wilcox: "Do I understand you to ask that this defendant be allowed to go on his own recognizance?"

Mr. Ashford: "I would offer no objections, your honor, to such a course. Yes, I think I would go so far as to ask that you allow the defendant to go on his own recognizance."

Judge Wilcox then caused this motion of the attorney for the prosecution to be entered on the records of the court, had the defendant sworn to return at such time as should be required by the court, and allowed him to go.

OLMOS DID NOT APPEAR

Manuel Olmos, the man who had a warrant sworn out for the arrest of his brother-in-law and was so keen after the prosecution of Rodriguez on the charge of vagrancy by being present at midnight in the room of his wife while he was absent from the house, did not appear in the Police Court to prosecute the case and it was dismissed by Judge Wilcox for want of prosecution.

Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth explained to the court that Olmos had expressed a wish to discontinue the case. Olmos' name was called three times but failing to appear, the judge took the course already mentioned.

Causes of the kind are the ones with which Judge Wilcox has no patience. Olmos was all very ready in the beginning to prosecute Rodriguez to the full extent of the law but something was done on the outside and he dropped the case like a hot potato.

FLINT VS. FLINT.

Nina F. Flint has brought suit for separation against Harry Flint of the waterfront police on the charge of extreme cruelty. The plaintiff states that on several occasions during the past four months, her husband, upon finding her out with her daughter at night—once to see a sick friend and another time at a concert in Murphy hall—deliberately locked the doors of the house and refused to allow them to enter upon their return home. They were thus forced to seek other lodgings for the night. The plaintiff asks for a separation forever and that the defendant be made to pay alimony and the attorney's fees in the case.

J. A. Hassinger shows no improvement today over his condition of last night, and there seems to be but little hope that he will recover from his present illness.

MADAME PELE MOVING

Mokuaweewo is waking up, according to reports brought by the schooner Eclipse, from Kona. On Saturday night when off Kailua, the reflection from the crater's fire was seen for a time and then clouds covered the mountain and the crew of the vessel could not see anything. Sunday at Hoonah the captain was informed that Mokuaweewo was bubbling, but up to last accounts had not begun to flow.

COLONEL BOYD WILL BE GRAND MARSHAL

There was a meeting this morning of the Fourth of July Committee on Parade and Salutes, consisting of Colonels J. H. Boyd, J. W. Jones and C. J. McCarthy. A skeleton outline of events was arranged.

There will be a parade in the morning of the Hawaiian National Guard, the Honolulu Fire Department, Kamehameha School cadets, St. Louis College cadets, Boys' Brigade, floats, decorated conveyances, automobiles and bicycles. Besides the Territorial band, the Kamehameha, St. Louis and Portuguese bands will be in line.

Prizes will be given for the most original advertising scheme on delivery wagons, for other conveyances and bicycles. The committee may have an allegorical float.

Colonel Boyd vainly resisted a majority vote making him grand marshal of the parade. His reason for desiring to decline the position—that the Fourth is his birthday—was regarded by his colleagues as having force just the contrary way.

National salutes will be fired at sunrise, noon and sunset.

PRATT WORKING HARD HAS MANY OBSTACLES TO OVERCOME THIS SESSION

Independent Measure Has No Possible Show—Only Hope Will Be In Urgent Deficiency Bill.

Washington, D. C., May 17.—The Senate Committee on Pacific Islands still has under consideration the matter of the Honolulu fire claims, as presented by J. G. Pratt. It is possible that provision for payment of the claims will be incorporated in the General Deficiency bill. This is the only general appropriation bill remaining unreported to both houses, and the only general appropriation bill in which the fire claims item could now be incorporated.

If a place is not secured for it in this measure, it will have to take chances as an independent measure, and owing to the lateness and the stress of business incident to the close of the session, its chances as an independent bill would be very slight. Mr. Pratt is working earnestly, but has many obstacles to overcome in carrying the measure through at this session.

ORDER OF ARREST.

HALL CASE CLOSING

JUDGE HUMPHREYS HEARS FIRE INSURANCE CASES

Appeal of United Chinese Society's Dispute—Achi Paid Mortgage—Court Sits Memorial Day.

J. W. Hall's defense began before Judge Robinson this morning, and there was a prospect at noon recess that the case might go to the jury this afternoon or evening.

Jurors not engaged were excused until 3 p. m. tomorrow. Owing to the limited time left, Judge Robinson will hold court in term throughout Memorial Day.

Saturday will be given to the divorce calendar.
D. L. Akwai vs. Royal Insurance Co. has been taken under advisement by Judge Humphreys, together with Wong Chow vs. New Zealand Insurance Co. Hop Hing & Co. vs. North German Insurance Co. has been discontinued.

W. C. Achi, answering the bill of John Silva de Pasos for specific performance, says the money to procure the release of mortgage in question was paid to the Kapiolani Estate before the suit was brought, also that the mortgagee had given notice to Philip J. Farley, solicitor for plaintiff, of such payment.

Wong Kwai and associates have perfected an appeal to the Supreme Court from Judge Gear's decree confirming C. K. Al and associates in holding the offices and records of the United Chinese Society.

MAY NOT BE ANY GAMES TOMORROW

There seems to be a pretty widespread sentiment among the baseball players of the city that there shall not be any baseball games tomorrow on account of the nature of the day. The boys feel that it is a day to be commemorated in a fitting manner and that playing baseball on that day is not a proper proceeding.

The sentiment was so generally expressed yesterday that President Chas. Chillingworth of the League has decided to call a meeting of that body this afternoon at 5 o'clock for the purpose of considering the matter. Mr. Chillingworth is himself not in favor of any games tomorrow.

The only argument in favor of the games seems to lie in the fact that by postponement, the season will be spread out too long. There is already one game to be played at the end of the season and if there are no games tomorrow, that will make three that will have to be played before the season can be properly completed. Emergencies may arise during the remainder of the season that will make it necessary for other games to be played at the end, so that the games may lap over for a month past the time it was expected would see the completion of the series.

DESERTER CAPTURED

Fred. Buckley was arrested yesterday evening by a sergeant and some privates from Camp McKinley. The man is a deserter. He has been away from the camp for some time, and it was only recently that the officers there learned of his whereabouts. Men were immediately dispatched after the fellow, although notices had already been posted at the police station. Buckley was taken to the police station, where he spent the night. This morning he was removed to Camp McKinley, where he is now in the guard-house awaiting trial by court-martial. There are still a number of deserters from Camp McKinley at large, and it is believed some of them are in the city yet.

CORLISS AND HIS CABLE

STILL HARD AT WORK FOR GOVERNMENT LINE

Wants Foreign Cables Ordered Off Our Shores—Will Frame a Bill To Cover Disputed Points.

Washington, May 17.—Representative Corliss of Michigan waited on the President and Secretary of War yesterday, and asked their cooperation in securing legislation for the construction of a purely American cable between the United States and Hawaii, with a connection with the Philippines.

He explained that German and Netherlands companies are endeavoring to secure landing rights for a cable between the points named, in order to complete the cable circuit of the world under the control of those governments, and he asked that the President prohibit the landing on United States territory of any cable owned or controlled by foreign governments.

There being some doubt as to the powers of the executive in the premises, Representative Corliss said that he would introduce a bill to cover the disputed point.

TAMPICO HAD VERY ROUGH TRIP

Ran Into a North-Wester Just After Leaving Seattle.

GRAVE FEARS WERE FELT FOR FREIGHTER

Various Parts of Vessel Carried Away—After House Doors Crushed and Water Rushes Down.

The Globe Navigation company's steamer Tampico arrived in port this morning after a trip of twelve days from Seattle. The length of the trip was due to a fearful hurricane which the steamer ran into shortly after leaving port.

The Tampico left Seattle on Monday, May 17, at noon. During the night of the same day, she ran into a north-westerly gale which soon increased in ferocity until it reached hurricane force. For two days the storm raged. Huge waves were continually breaking over the vessel and baring her decks under masses of water. The storm was so fierce that at times those on board entertained grave fears for the safety of the vessel and thought that she was going to "turn turtle."

The waves, which were continually sweeping over the vessel even reached up on the high superstructure where the pilot house and the captain's quarters are located and washed into these rooms at times. The rail on the stairway leading to this structure was carried away by the tremendous force of the waves.

The after house of the steamer fared worse. This part is much lower and the rushing water played havoc with this house and its contents. The doors were crushed by the weight and force of the waves which, entering the mess room, cabins and alley ways, carried away tables, bedding, crockery and in fact nearly everything portable until there were hardly salt cellars and cutlery enough to go around.
